It seems to us that to the average mind the most astendshing phase of the awful quarter mestery at Fall River, must be the apparent utter lack of intelligible reason thus far furnished for the arrest, prolonged incarceration and trial sof the daughter of Mr. Borden, the only pretext for which, so far as we have observed, is the fact that she was one of the only two persons, besides the two victims, known o have been about the premises at the time of the tragedy. We have read with considerable care everything that has been put forward against the accessed girl in this case, and can find absolutely nothing even suggestive of criminality on her part, and nothing that would not apply to any person so unfortunate as to be in a house when a mysterious crime was committed.

Of course we do not know what evidence the State officials may bereafter produce, but the impression created upon aspartial people by the discreditable break-down of the most important govcroment witnesses up to this thue, with its collapsing effect upon every pet theory of the prosecution, is not calculated to inare confidence in the sincerity of the conduct of the case.

The disclosure of the concenhent of facts about the handle of a hatchet, the disappearance of which was to be urged as a strong porttagainst the accused, is carting in its revelation of the peril in from the relentless of all of prosecutors, seemingly beat upon providing a victimat all hazards to relieve themselves from the charge of ingfliciency in hunting down-

We await with interest the explanation that the state prosecutors must make of this amazing attriopt to prove the disappearance of a birtchet-han He by the idena d policemen who had found it, fitted it to its place, and then went upon and left. e withess stand without at, intimation that be had everyeen, the massing piece of

If this be not true we must lose faith in the honor, intelligence and decency of the American people. If private letters, domestic affairs, household miscries, the misfortunes of women and the sacredness of the home sanctuary are to receive no consideration at the hands of a press bent on aggrandizing itself, then indeed our civilization and our free institutions are failthres."

Mr. Poindexter Dunn seems to have given the spirit of the policy of the Administration towards pensioners in a few words. The New York Tribune says of the secret session of the Custom House Investigating Commission:

Wallace MacFarlane, the attorney for the commission, was reading the account of the secident in Washington in an evening paper to Commissioners Magone and Dunn. When the reporters joined the group Mr. Dunn asked one of them for what the old theatre building was used. The reporter told him. Then the Commissioner spoke slurringly of the pensioners, ending with the statement:

"IT'S TOO BAD! I WOULDN'T HAVE CARED SO MUCH IF THEY HAD BEEN PENSIONERS INSTEAD OF THE POOR CLEERS."

"Every one in the room was struck" almost speechless by the remark. The commissioner did not seem to be in the least disturbed. His high hat was on the back of his kead and his hands were in his trousers pockets."

It will be observed there are plenty of witnesses named. Mr. Dunn is a statesman from Arkansas, and, of course up n. Custom Houses and an expert in purging pension lists. The remarkable report is printed in the New York World that a large commission house on Wall street was on Monday given an intimation that President Cleveland in tended to make his statement regarding the extra session, and that with this knowledge it purchased a quantity of stocks and reaped a big barvest by selling them after the President's statement had been printed and prices had been temporarily advanced. Does the World realize that this allegation involves a scandalous charge against the Executive Department? The press despatches report that President Cleveland carefully kept his statement from the public until the very moment of its issue. Who was it then who carried the news to a Wall street stock broker and gave him a chance to realize a handsome profit by this information? This is an interesting query. If such a charge had been made during a Republican administration the Democratic press would have teemed with accusations against the Republican party. Referring to the terrible disaster in Washington Friday the correspondent of

Sunday at the Pair.
CHICAGO, June 11. Chief Justice Fulcie's decision was not made known far enough away from Chicago in time to bring n a crowd of countrymen, and as a result to-day's sight seers at the World's Fair were mostly Chicagoans. The morning was damp and a heavy fog blew in from the lake, hiding the towers and minarets of the great buildings and making heavy overcoats almost necessary.

The early attendance was small. Along about 1 the sun came out warm, rendering the afternoon bright and pleasant. Crowds began to come about 2 and from that hour until dark every mode of trunsportation was-tested to the fullest capacity. The attendance for the day was good, considerably exceeding last Sunday. Religious services were held down town in the morning by Mr. Moody at Tatterali's and at Forepaugh's circus in the afternoon.

A Startling Disclosure

A Startling Disclosure was made at the World's Fair grounds last evening when the priceless laces sent here for exhibition by Queen Margaretta of taly were unpacked. Thirty pieces were missing. The government of the United States gave bould of 8100,000 to guraantee their return to Italy. The indications are that the loss will not fall on the exposition as the bond did not cover the safety of the laces in transit. A Startling Disclosure

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They do it in just the right way, tooby using Nature's own methods.
That's why they're better than the dreadful, old-fashioned pills, with their griping and violence.
But they're better in every way.
In size, for instance, and dose.

They're the smallest and the easiest to take; only one little Pellet is needed for a gentle luxative—three for a cathartic. They cleanso and regulate the system thoroughly—but it's done easily and naturally. Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilions Attacks, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels are preyented, relieved, and cared.
